BRAKE CHECK DAY 2017

The results for the unannounced brake check day held May 3rd have been published. The DOT inspected 9,524 vehicles and placed 1,989 vehicles out of service for various violations and 1,146 for brake related violations.

The next brake safety day event will be held September 7th and will be conducted throughout North America.

At North American Transport Services we had excellent results, our fleet has over 200 drivers out of which only 2 were placed out of service for vehicle maintenance violations that day but there were no brake issues. We have for some time implemented performing DOT level I inspections on all our units at our yard before the driver is assigned a load. This great policy has ensured our trucks are compliant and we have significantly reduced the amount and seriousness of vehicle maintenance violations over the road.

We also increased our fleet manager crew, ensuring all our driver's needs over the road are taken care of in a timely manner without affecting our on time rate. We count on our drivers to report any type of vehicle maintenance issue found during the Pre-trip inspection and resolution is provided to the driver immediately.
